

Day 1: Exploring Downtown Denver

Morning:

- Start your day at Snooze, an A.M. Eatery. Located at 1701 Wynkoop Street, Suite 150, it's a perfect spot to fuel up before exploring. Known for its relaxed atmosphere and delicious breakfast options, it's a local favorite. Try their eggs Benedict or a breakfast taco ala carte.

Midday:

- After brunch, take a stroll around Union Station, just steps away from Snooze. Enjoy the architecture and maybe grab a coffee from one of the local shops inside.
- Head over to the Denver Art Museum to immerse yourself in some culture. It's a short drive or a scenic walk from Union Station.

Afternoon:

- For lunch, consider grabbing something light in the museum's café or explore nearby options in the Golden Triangle Creative District.
- Spend your afternoon at the Denver Botanic Gardens, a beautiful place to relax and enjoy nature.

Evening:

- Dinner at one of Denver's many excellent restaurants. Consider exploring the RiNo (River North Art District) for a variety of culinary delights and a vibrant nightlife scene.

Day 2: The Highlands and Beyond

Morning:

- Kick off your day at Jelly Café for a retro brunch experience. Located at 600 East 13th Avenue Pearl Street, it's known for its unique vibe and delicious pancakes. The sweet potato hash and Haco Chili biscuits are must-tries.

Midday:

- After brunch, take a walk through the historic streets of Capitol Hill and visit the Molly Brown House Museum to dive into Denver's history.
- Make your way to the Highlands, a neighborhood known for its charming boutiques and coffee shops. It's a great place to explore on foot.

Afternoon:

- For lunch, head to Sassafras American Eatery at 3927 W 32nd Ave West Highland. Despite a mixed initial experience, the food and service at the counter are highly praised. The BBQ Benedict and chicken mushroom hash come highly recommended.
- Spend your afternoon in the Tennyson Street Cultural District, where you can find art galleries, bookstores, and unique shops.

Evening:

- Conclude your day with a visit to The Universal for dinner, located at 2911 W 38th Ave. Known for its high-quality food and friendly service, it's a great spot to unwind. The Huevos and Bacon/Bourbon Highball are standout choices.
- If you're up for it, end your night with a visit to one of Denver's craft breweries to sample some local beer.
