

Day 1: Downtown Denver and Larimer Square

- Morning: Start your day with a visit to the Denver Art Museum, known for its impressive collection of Native American art and contemporary masterpieces. Then, take a short walk to the Colorado State Capitol Building and enjoy the panoramic views of the snow-capped Rockies from the dome.
- Lunch at Panzano: After a morning of exploration, head to Panzano for lunch. Located at 909 17th St, Panzano is celebrated for its lively atmosphere and exceptional Italian cuisine. The chef's special filet mignon and the award-winning Tiramisu are must-tries.
- Afternoon: Spend your afternoon strolling through Larimer Square, Denver's most historic block. Here, you can shop at unique boutiques, admire the Victorian buildings, and maybe catch a street performance.
- Dinner at Tavernetta: Conclude your day with dinner at Tavernetta, located at 1889 Sixteenth St. The vibrant atmosphere, extensive wine list, and exquisite Italian dishes, such as the house-made buccatini with butter and saffron sauce, make it a perfect dining spot.

Day 2: City Park and RiNo

- Morning: Visit the Denver Zoo located in City Park, home to over 4,000 animals. Afterward, explore the Denver Museum of Nature & Science, which offers a variety of exhibits from dinosaur skeletons to space explorations.
- Lunch at Il Posto: For lunch, Il Posto at 2601 Larimer St offers a superb dining experience with dishes like the gnocchi with Mercano almond pesto and the NY strip steak. The attentive service and cozy atmosphere will make your meal memorable.
- Afternoon: Head to the River North Art District (RiNo), where you can admire street art, visit galleries, and maybe even catch a live music performance.
- Dinner at Spuntino: End your day at Spuntino, located at 2639 W 32nd Ave. This restaurant stands out for its imaginative Italian cuisine and exceptional wine pairings. The six-course menu is a culinary journey worth experiencing.

Day 3: Red Rocks Park and Golden

- Morning: Take a short drive to Red Rocks Park and Amphitheatre. Enjoy a hike among the stunning red sandstone formations and visit the amphitheater, a renowned concert venue.
- Lunch in Golden: Explore the charming town of Golden, known for its Western history and the Coors Brewery. Enjoy lunch at a local café or restaurant here.
- Afternoon: Visit the Colorado Railroad Museum or take a brewery tour in Golden to learn about the local history and craft beer scene.
- Dinner back in Denver: On your last night, consider revisiting your favorite Italian restaurant from the previous days or explore another dining option in Denver to make the most of your culinary journey.
